REVENUE FROM INHERITANCE TAX IS ALMOST DOUBLED

Through a careful investigation of all estates and adequate appraisals, State Treasurer H. S. Ross is increasing the state's revenue from inheritance taxes almost 100 per cent over last year.

This was revealed in Phoenix in a report showing that during the months of July and August a total of $6,197.48 was collected, and at this rate the annual income would be $36,000 or more, as against $20,000 collected last year.

The inheritance taxes collected during the last two months were from 27 estates. In addition to this the department examined and appraised 24 other estates from which no tax was due. Under the law $5,000 of the estate is exempt where the wife or child of the decedent is the heir.

Many complicated cases arise in the case of estates in other states. "Our principal difficulty arises," explained Ross, "in dealing with cases in which double exemption is sought. For instance a man dies in California leaving an estate of $25,000, half of which is located in Arizona. Under the California law $5,000 is exempt from taxation. That is no reason why another $5,000 should be exempt when it comes to paying the inheritance tax in this state though very frequently we have cases where they attempt to avoid payment on this grounds. Our practice has been to exempt in a case of this kind only 50 per cent of the $5,000, this being in proportion to the amount of the estate in Arizona. By following this practice we have been able to collect many thousands of dollars which otherwise would remain uncollected. Thus far there have been no legal complications and I expect none, for the Arizona law is clear, and other state laws have no bearing in the matter."
